Property Description

This Elegant Bourgeois Mansion was built in 1859 by a local industrial and was soon after acquired by a family of British expatriates which were part of the English colony of Dinan, Colony that started around the middle of the 19th century as Dinan attracted personalities from all walks of life and of relatively privileged cultural backgrounds, artists, officers, former plantation owners, exiled from colonized India and the Bahamas and seeking a new place of residence, For the newcomers;, These quarters of Dinan were particularly attractive, close to the centre and so quiet at the same time, a place from where we could feel the presence of nature with distant views on the valley, woods, and access to the river Rance just below,

Over the years, the property has always been well cared for and has kept its timeless charm,

- Preserved original architectural features: marble fireplaces, parquet floors, ceiling roses, wood panelling, magnificent staircase,

- The very special feel of a bourgeois house, generous rooms, huge windows, high ceilings; a lot of light coming in at different times of day creating a lovely atmosphere, each room as a strong personality, in every room, meticulous and harmonious decoration.

- Interior layout:

- 3 elegant living rooms

- 5 spacious bedrooms, including the magnificent master suite with 4 large windows and lovely views, dressing room and bathroom,

- A party room with a bar, snooker table, darts, perfect for entertaining, It opens onto the terrace and garden to offer the perfect space for entertaining all year round with a garden bar where lights go up in the evening

The grounds are an important part of this property, they are beautifully landscaped and completely enclosed by high stone walls, totally enchanting, the green house is original and adds to the charm, a real delight! lovely views.

The bottom part of the land is construtible and could be sold off or built on.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty).

The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days cooling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

For more information take a look at our buying guide, our french mortgage and euro currency exchange pages.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
