Property Description

Beautiful neo-Breton style house located near the village of Ploërdut, a small, very quiet village and only 8 km from the charming town of Guémené-sur-Scorff. This family home will amaze you with its brightness and practical layout. The visit begins with an entrance leading to 4 main rooms including the bright kitchen opening onto a spacious living/dining room with a balcony. Then, two beautiful bedrooms and a bathroom. The visit continues upstairs, which offers 2 more bedrooms bathed in light and two small attics, ideal for creating a dressing area, as well as a bathroom to redesign. Finally, a large basement with garage, cellar and laundry room. The land at the back of the house offers you the tranquility of a garden without vis-à-vis, perfect for enjoying summer days in Brittany. If you are looking for a pretty house in the countryside, in a charming and typically Breton village, then don't hesitate and contact us

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty).

The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days cooling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

For more information take a look at our buying guide, our french mortgage and euro currency exchange pages.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
