Property Description

Dating from the 14th century, this magnificent, imposing & historic building was used to protect for the inhabitants of Limeuil living above. Destroyed during the Hundred Years' War, it was rebuilt at the end of the 15th century. The house was connected by passages to the Chateau where the arboretum is located today. it still has its small chapel on the garden courtyard. The exterior arch appears on almost all postcards of the region. This family home with 3-4 bedrooms, 1 bathroom, 1 shower room, vaulted wine cellars and garage has beautiful volumes, including a very large, bright living & dining room of approximately 80 m² which is full of character, with high ceilings, original beams and imposing open fireplaces. The different parts of the garden offer breathtaking and serene views of the village, the valley and rivers. A MUST ViSiT!

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty).

The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days cooling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
