Property Description

Designed on several levels, this house develops 155sqm of living space in a quiet environment. The main room, bathed in light thanks to its large openings, offers a breathtaking view of the countryside. A fitted and equipped kitchen fits harmoniously into this friendly space. The living room area has a fireplace clad in Toulouse bricks. Upstairs, there are two bedrooms with storage space which share a bathroom and a space that can be used as an office. A master suite has its own bathroom and dressing room. On the top level, under the roof, a play area and two other rooms can be converted into bedrooms. The outdoor space is just as atypical. Several distinct spaces have been designed to enjoy the swimming pool, or simply share a meal with friends near the kitchen. A double garage completes this property. This family home close to amenities will delight a family looking for peace and quiet. Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
