Behind the gates you are welcomed by a swimming pool and a variety of plants and trees that give a feeling of privacy and serenity. Inside the villa you will find original details from the Belle Époque combined with modern, functional solutions as well as luxurious materials and exquisite stone floors.

When you enter the villa you are welcomed by a beautiful hall that leads to the modern, fully equipped kitchen with stone surfaces and all high end equipment. On the same floor there is also an office and a living room from which there is access to the balconies and behind the villa there is a large terrace with privacy and shade. The staircase leads to the second floor that presents four bedrooms of which one is the master bedroom with its own en-suite bathroom.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
