Property Description

This modern villa stands out due to its exceptional quality of materials and craftsmanship, creating a space that flows seamlessly and naturally. It embodies a sense of balance, harmony, and luxury. On the first floor, the expansive living room leads to a dining area and a large terrace that includes a summer dining spot, alongside a fully equipped kitchen and a study.

The second floor features a spacious main bedroom suite with two dressing rooms and two additional bedrooms with their own bathrooms. The ground level houses an extensive garage capable of holding eight cars with a car lift, a state-of-the-art home cinema, a wine cellar, a fitness area, two additional bedrooms for guests or caretakers, and ample storage space. Outside, the villa boasts a swimming pool with a pool-house and additional parking space, making it a prime residence in the South of France with stunning views.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty).

The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days cooling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
