Property Description

This stately neoclassical villa in Super Cannes is a monument to refined Mediterranean living, where baroque-inspired architectural elements create an immediate sense of grandeur. The symmetrical façade with its impressive central staircase, ornate wrought-iron balustrades, and classical columns establishes a commanding presence amid meticulously landscaped grounds.

The interiors reflect a commitment to aristocratic elegance, with lavish ceiling moldings, crystal chandeliers, and richly detailed millwork throughout. The living spaces showcase a palette of creams and soft pastels, complemented by marble flooring inlaid with decorative motifs. The living room opens to panoramic sea views through floor-to-ceiling French doors, while the master suite continues the theme of regal luxury with private terrace access.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty).

The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days cooling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.
