Property Description

This stone village house is located in the old village of Mouans-Sartoux, ideally located between the hills of Grasse and the beaches of Cannes.

The 70 sqm house sits across from a quiet park surrounding the 15th century Chateau of Mouans Sartoux. It consists of 3 levels. At entrance level there is a hallway, laundry room and 25 sqm garage which can be converted into habitable space.

Up one flight of stairs is a living/dining room with open kitchen, a shower room and lovely windows looking on to the park.

On the top floor are 2 bedrooms, both with large closets, and a second shower room. The main bedroom has direct access onto a covered terrace.

This lovely village house is ideally located for enjoying the shops and cafes of the village but also quietly located near the park and without on-looking neighbors.

Buying French Property Just Got Easier...

The purchase process typically starts once you've visited a property with one of our agents and you made an offer on a property. Once your offer has been accepted, the property will come off the market and our local bilingual expert will liaise with you and the notaire. The compulsory searches are at the charge of the owner / vendor and are carried out at this stage.

You would have already been informed about the property taxes and legal fees (that incl. the stamp duty). The agency fees are already included in the listed price on this document, there's no premium for the superior service we offer. You don't have to pay the deposit until the 'pre-contract' has been signed, and the 10 days calling off period has expired. It takes an average of three months to buy a property in France.

Testimonials

my-french-house was by far the best online guide I found – and I trawled them all – to buying a house in France. It answers all your first questions practically before you've thought to ask.

C. BAUER – Sunday Times

Our French property purchase and move to France were made so easy with the help and assistance of my-french-house.com. They are a committed and professional business – we highly recommend them.
